Someone was shooting at your drone ! The projectile was a small white ball. The person is down on one knee aiming something much like a rifle with a scope on it. The concise location of that person,....Stop the video to where you see the projectile enters the frame. In center view there is 3 brown sections of land. Your focus will be on the first section,....the one closest to your view. Then place you focus on where the brown and green meets. There is a road there. In the center of this area you will see two bushes that are spaced about 13 ft apart. To the right of that is a small tree with bushes on both sides of the tree. On the right side of that tree is a guy aiming something at your drone that has a scope on it.

John Jordan you have no sense of scale in this video but take it from a local who grew up here those bushes are about 3/4 of a mile away Edit: if you are referring to the ones where the ball originates from John, what? How are you able to see a person is down on one knee aiming something much like a rifle with a scope with this resolution and this distance? That does not sound right.

Hi, yes, it looks like the same thing. I still have no idea what they are shinukism shnuck 1 year ago

no doubt about it, it is a small bird.

madhaggis 2 years ago

Its a Pumpkin ...You where Lucky guys. These Pumpkins are dangerous, I saw one take out a Drone about a month ago.... Count your blessings, That was indeed a close encounter

Glyn Coy - Hidden Wiltshire 2 years ago

+madhaggis1 would that make it a close encounter of the 8th kind?

madhaggis 2 years ago

+Coy CLOUD (aka Quad Boys) But seriously that was far to fast for another uav, if it originated from earth at that speed, it would have to have been fired from a cannon or something.

Glyn Coy - Hidden Wiltshire 2 years ago

+madhaggis1 I know. Puzzles me every time I look at the original clip. You clearly see it start as a white speck from about a mile a way, this it's in and out of shot in around one second. That's faster than any aircraft can fly, and probably too fast to be picked up with the naked eye.

Alien Operation 2 years ago

it a remote flown anti gravity drone, owned by extra terrestrials and used for false flag reason in operations by E.T

How fast!?! That's no way a bird. Great catch!

david anderson 2 years ago

Or it could be another drone. Drones are becoming ever increasingly popular. The guy is flying a phantom drone which doesn't fly very fast plus his video looks like it's capturing video at 30fps and maybe a little lag from the fpv if he was using it. It could just be someone else flying an FPV racing drone which have a top speed of 60 - 80 mph. They are small and fast and normally have bright leds on them. Have a look on YouTube search fpv racing drone

Glyn Coy - Hidden Wiltshire 2 years ago

+david anderson Thanks David. Very credible suggestion. Although I was up there filming from various vantage points for about an hour and did not see any other UAV pilots or aircraft, it doesn't mean that this explanation can be ruled out. There is a reserved model flying area a few hundred metres away, so it is possible someone could have strayed across. I was flying line of sight although was glancing down to my ipad screen when the object came across - on an ipad mini it look like a bird. While lightbridge technology does not have much lag between the image and screen if something is travelling at 60-80mph it is gone by the time you look up. It was indeed filmed at 30fps, in 1080p - which means slow motion and zoom doesn't really enhance the image.

Nice capture Glyn! Some thing really fast, try freeze frame and en-large. Military are always flying around in the area :-)

Glyn Coy - Hidden Wiltshire 2 years ago

I will try to slow it down and enlarge. I live in the area so am well used to the sights and sounds of the military but this one has me puzzled. I didn't spot anything untoward with the naked eye on the day, only picked this up when reviewing the footage.

+Quad Boys Hello. Can we use your sighting on our UFO-channel?
We will credit you for the video also. Great capture.
Thanks for sharing! We wait your answer

Interesting catch, I wouldn't say bird..., way too fast. These drones get some good hd footage.
